Our Plans

So far, our plans for the site include:

- 1. Conserve
Conserving the Farmhouse,
Feedbarn, Brewhouse and the WWII
Squadron Offices
- 2. Set up
Creating an Information Hub for the public
- 3. Plant
Planting over 30,000 trees and shrubs across the site and ensuring wildlife can thrive

On-site Museum

The World War II Squadron Offices were uncovered under years of overgrowth and inside you can find the office of Captain Powell. Following our research we believe Captain Powell was part of the Glider Pilot Regiment, a British Army regiment. We aim to transform elements of this site into a museum - home to preserved artefacts that have been found during the restoration.

Preserved Community Space

Woodhouse Farm is home to many historical features. The Woodhouse Farmhouse is Grade II listed and dates back to the early 17th century. It currently lies derelict next to the former RAF Rivenhall airfield but we plan to repair the site to its former glory and to keep this valuable piece of heritage alive for future generations. The community is at the heart of everything we do – we strive to create a place we can all treasure for years to come.

Information Hub

As part of our commitment to contribute to local communities, we invest in education, outreach and communication. We strive to engage with residents to raise awareness of the climate emergency, the circular economy, the technologies we use and much more. The Education Officer in the Information Hub on site will welcome everyone who wants to learn about the Rivenhall IWMF & Energy Centre and Woodhouse Farm journey.
